

Your guide to...

WRUW-FM's
Folk and International Festival

Live folk, international and blues music
concert and broadcast.

Noon - 10:00 pm
August 25, 1990
91.1 FM Stereo
FREE!

CONCERT SPONSORS

When doing business at these establishments, please take a moment to thank them for their support of WRUW's Folk and International Festival.

BIASHARA'S LTD.

1807 Coventry Road, Cleveland Heights
Open 11:00 am - 8:30 pm Monday - Saturday
1:00 pm - 5:30 pm on Sundays
932-0237

THE BARKING SPIDER TAVERN

"Featuring beer, wine, food, games, music and rock 'n' roll."
On the walking lane between Bellflower and Juniper Roads.
(In University Circle.)
421-2863

CLUB ISABELLA

"Dining, drinking, and live jazz six nights a week."
2025 Abington Road
(In University Circle.)
Open for dining for lunch and dinner Monday through Saturday,
Friday and Saturday until 1:00 am.

LITTLE CAESAR'S

"Featuring buy-one-get-one-free pizza."
Corner of Euclid and Mayfield and here at Studio-A-Rama.
721-5500

WAX STACKS

"Featuring a variety of folk, international, reggae, and African music CD's, cassettes, and LP's."
Cleveland Heights	Mentor
2254 Lee Road	7529 Mentor Avenue
321-7935	975-9570

This concert is also made possible because of the generous support of our listeners during WRUW's on-air fundraiser this past February. Thank you!

Performance Schedule

(In order of appearance with approximate performance times.)

Noon Mellow Harp Steel Drum Band

"Cleveland's own melodius Carribean steel drum band."

--- acoustic blues set by Jim Seliga ---

1:10 pm First String Band

"Acoustic swing, blues and ragtime trio."

2:15 pm George Foley

"Hot" swing jazz sextet.

--- acoustic folk set by Deborah Van Kleef ---

3:30 pm Hollywood Slim

"Six-piece Cleveland blues band."

4:30 pm Cindy Mackay

"Cleveland singer/songwriter with a modern folk focus."

5:30 pm Kleveland Klezmerim

"Yiddish jazz of central Europe transported to Cleveland."

6:30 pm Gary Hall

"Should-be-heard songs of little-known songwriters."

7:30 pm Boiled Buzzards

"Old-time and Appalacian music."

8:45 pm Peter Rowan

"Eclectic soloist at home in bluegrass, rock, and traditional country."

Recently released album title Dust Bowl Children

During band stage changes,
WRUW-FM will broadcast recorded music.

For Your Information

Bathroom Facilities: Porta-Johns have been provided at the concert site for your use. Security precautions prevent the use of any building facilities.

Emergencies: In the event of an emergency, notify a WRUW staff member (at the WRUW building entrance or at the side of the stage area) or any of the security guards.

Food and Drinks: WRUW does not sell any food or drinks during the concert, however, you are welcome to bring your own. To help keep the concert enjoyable for everyone, please refrain from "overindulgence."

Voter Registration: As a public service to our community, WRUW is providing voter registration at a table staffed by station personnel.

About the Folk and International Festival

For the past 23 years, the staff of WRUW-FM 91.1 has strived to present a great mix of alternative music. As part of this effort, we have maintained a strong belief in supporting local musicians and helping them to get their music heard and accepted.

The WRUW Folk and International Festival is the station's first-ever live music concert devoted solely to Cleveland-based folk, international and blues music. Our goal is to highlight Cleveland-area musicians that perform such musics and to show that there is much more to this city than "rock and roll" bands. The concert is a special presentation to celebrate our tenth anniversary of supporting local musicians of all music genres.

Ten years ago the WRUW staff created the weekly "Live From Studio A" (now called "Live From Cleveland", Saturdays from 2:00 pm to 3:00 pm), the now-defunct "Reel Live Music", and the annual Studio-A-Rama summer concert of local rock musicians. In the early 1980's, WRUW provided broadcasts of local musicians from "The Spot" (on the CWRU north campus) and at the Hessler Street Fairs.

Although this is our first major concert of non-rock musicians, we had 30 artists audition to perform. We hope you enjoy the show and hope that our first WRUW Folk and International Festival exceeds your expectations. Thanks for being with us!